A person shall be entitled to a patent unless –

2. Claims 1-4, 6-8 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 102(b) as being anticipated by Seto et al, US. Pat. No. 6,088,229.

3. Claims 1, 2 and 6, Seto teaches an information terminal [Fig. 1], comprising;
a case having a section accommodating a detachable memory [Figs 1 and 2, title, abstract, col. 1, lines 5-14];

a locking device provided in the case [Lock device 32 of Figs 2 and 5], the locking device being changed between a locked state and an unlocked state with a key [Key 37 of Figs 5 and 6];

a lid for covering the section accommodating the memory device of the case [card cover 27 of Figs. 5 and 6]; and

4. Claims 3, 4 and 7-8, Seto teaches the interlocking lock-mechanism locks the lid directly ... [Figs 1, 5 and 6].

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 103

5. The following is a quotation of 35 U.S.C. 103(a) which forms the basis for all obviousness rejections set forth in this Office action:

(a) A patent may not be obtained though the invention is not identically disclosed or described as set forth in section 102 of this title, if the differences between the subject matter sought to be patented and the prior art are such that the subject matter as a whole would have been obvious at the time the invention was made to a person having ordinary skill in the art to which said subject matter pertains. Patentability shall not be negated by the manner in which the invention was made.

6. Claims 5 and 9 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 103(a) as being unpatentable over Seto et al, US. Pat. No. 6,088,229.

7. Claims 5 and 9, Seto fails to teach the information terminal comprises a wireless communication function.

Official notice is taken that both the concept and the advantages of having a wireless function built in an information terminal, such as a laptop, is old and well known in the art as admitted by Applicant [see the specification of the instant application, page 1, lines 11-14].
